TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

I have known Ms. Kimia Zabihyan since 1988 during which time I have seen her demonstrate great enterprise and professional skill in founding and building a very successful television production company in the United Kingdom.

The work that she initiated and managed was always of a high quality and broke new ground in the television industry. This work included important investigative journalism - often followed in the British newspapers - environmental programming and original documentary. She is a producer of real initiative and ability and was at the heart of the success of Observer Films Ltd. over nearly a decade.

As the Senior Commissioning Editor of one of Britain's major television networks, I am certain Ms. Zabihyan's initiative will demonstrate itself in the television industry anywhere in the world and I look forward to hearing of her success in the United States of America.

Yours faithfully,
